

I'm Always Waiting

(Words and Music by Boris Shishkov)

monday morning
my world is crying
my life ahead is hard to see

I can assure you
I'm always waiting
for you to pray for me

'll be always missing
your sense of spirit
and the love you gave to me

I ask forgiveness
and give my blessing
and endless love from me time will fly and never be the same every night and every single day without you

without you

I'll be searching for your love again every day and every night again
'll be searching for you
'll be searching for you

I can assure you
I'm always waiting
for you to pray for me

my world is crying
but you, Dad, 're not far from me
